1st International Conference
FIP Pharmacy Practice Research:
Postgraduate students, Postdoctoral fellows, and supervisors symposium
Lisbon, Portugal 25–27 June 2018

1 May 2018
Abstract deadline

NO REGISTRATION COSTS FOR THE CONFERENCE

The role of pharmacy practice research (PPR) has expanded in the past 50 years to encompass areas such as the clinical, behavioural, economic and humanistic implications of pharmacy practice. Furthermore, it is because PPR proves the value of pharmacy services that many of these are commissioned and paid for, and PPR will continue to influence the development of new services in the future.

This conference aims to increase the quality and quantity of pharmacy practice research by exchanging and disseminating information at an international level. New networks and collaborations will be established on major themes for experienced researchers and higher degree students.

PhD students and their supervisors are invited to this unique international conference to present their work and to start building new global pharmacy networks. Researchers, academics, professional organisations and practitioners involved in research are also invited.

ABSTRACT SUBMISSION

Register for the three-minute thesis and PhD presentations. The abstracts submission deadline is 1 May 2018 and abstracts must be submitted to BPSPPRLisbon2018@fip.org. All abstracts will be reviewed through a competitive selection process by the conference committee. For further information on the abstracts, and the required format for presentations and the submission, please email BPSPPRLisbon2018@fip.org.
